It's Time to Talk About Dog Poo! AGAIN!

To the responsible dog owners that pick up and dispose of their dog's poo either by taking it home or depositing it in one of the dog waste bins provided by the Parish Council, a big thank you.

To those dog owners that do not pick up their dogs poo and leave it on the footpaths, roads, Nature Trail and other open spaces, PICK IT UP and take it home or deposit it in one of the dog waste bins provided by the Parish Council which are situated in the following locations.

Old Post Lane junction Water Lane

West End of the Nature Trail

The Nature Trail behind Woolsthorpe Play Area

Footpath 18 near river

Stamford Road near allotment

School Lane where it meets footpath 20

- Always use a proper dog waste bag and if the dog waste bin is full please take your bag of poo home and use your own bin.
- Do not leave dog poo bags on the ground by a bin. It is not fair to expect our Community Cleaners Mark and Kevin to pick these up for you.
- If the bin is full then take your dogs waste home and deposit it in your own bin.
- Did you know that Kevin and Mark physically remove the heavy-duty black bags containing the deposited dog waste from the bins and transport these bags in their own personal vehicle to a collection point.
- Do not make their job more difficult by leaving your dog waste bags on the ground.
- Finally, the dog waste bins are for dog waste only.

Our Community Cleaners Kevin and Mark do a brilliant job do let us do our bit to help them.

INSPIRING WOMEN

What excitement as we heard that we could hold a meeting at long last. Following lots of calls, we had a very nearly 100% agreement for us to hold our September meeting with everyone looking forward to seeing familiar faces once again. Then BANG, Boris together with the comedian, Tony Hancock's relative, Matt, well he must be related with the things which he comes out with, dropped a bomb on our celebrations. No, we couldn't meet, putting the padlocks on the Social Club's doors as far as we were concerned just twenty four hours before we were due to meet. It was just the same in March when we had to cancel our AGM. However, we had managed to hold a committee meeting the week before this second blow and it had been lovely to see the familiar faces. We had been able to work out all the legal requirements needed before we could enter the door and awaited the Club's own risk assessments list. We were all set with a change of speaker, Jill Collinge who should have been with us had been advised by the medical relatives in her family not to carry out any lectures during the pandemic. Luck was on our side, Colin Young stepped in with a brand new talk, An Auctioneer's tales during the 2020 pandemic. He quite understood when we had to phone and cancel, and promised to come when everything is back to normal. What and whenever normality is. One problem solved by the committee following advice from head office, a member who had been nominated for committee and was due to take office at the AGM, was co-opted to the present committee to cover should the vulnerable members not be able to attend any meetings should there be further restrictions. At least she hasn't been thrown in at the deep end, with no meetings, outings or workshops at the moment. Following my last report or "waffle about nothing happened", I had appealed for suggestions what we might do in the meanwhile. So far, there has been no takers, neither for the craft items or the "twiddlemitts" pattern for knitting twiddlemitts to give to the residents in nursing homes or hospitals. Twiddlemitts may be a misnomer as it could be a little knee blanket, the buttons, bows, little holes, yes, we can knit holes, especially if we drop a stitch, the different textures produced by different stitches or groups of them worked in random fashion can keep the patient busy and occupied for hours the carers say. So if you are a lapsed knitter and fancy doing something which may bring joy to someone who is in a worse lockdown than you and me through the pandemic, give me a ring, you don't have to be a W.I. member, just give me a ring, my number is in the In Touch telephone index which appeared not so long ago. Any scraps of wool can be used, you knitters must have some half balls just asking to be used up. Many thanks in anticipation. We had been invited to attend Ropsley W.I.'s meeting on the village green this week. They were due to have a fundraising afternoon for the Newark Refuge Aid and the Grantham food bank. Needless to say it had to be cancelled, but one of our members who was due to attend the event has had a ring round and will be collecting donations as I write this, and will deliver to the appropriate organisation. We had a coffee morning for the Refuge "last backend" collecting clothes, and we sent money to the Boston branch and we have received a lovely "thank you" card made by the children in refuge.

It looks as though there will be no celebrations for our 103rd anniversary, well not like we usually do. Perhaps we could each have a fairy cake with a candle on it after we have had our lunch at home and raise a glass of bubbly or a cuppa at least. I asked for suggestions last month and this is the only one received so far. I live in hope that Boris and his side-kick gets it all sorted before Christmas, which seems to be his deadline at the moment. The W.I. diaries are now available, let me know if you want one, priced at £5.10 plus postage which is payable when we receive them. Hopefully there will be something we can fill them with, like dates of meetings etc., not like mine this year, all it seems to have in it are reminders of birthdays for sending cards.

With the closure of Denman college, tutors are providing online courses, from one hour in length and cost from £5.00. See the latest Federation newsletter for details. We are also invited to give details of any craft project which we may have done, to be included in the W.I.'s column in the monthly Crafts Beautiful. As before, see details in the newsletter.

The 2020/2021 programme which was already for printing in March has now been printed, with some revision to bring it up to date. Well, it was until you know who dropped his bomb. It will be quite a collector's item in years to come, and I will enter it in the Chairman's Challenge. We did rather well last time we entered. I will get one to you as soon as I can.

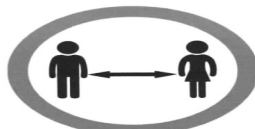

It's no good telling you that we would have been meeting on the 20th September is it? Well I'll tell you anyway. We should have been meeting at the Sports and Social Club at 2 o'clock, where we would have heard Mr Martin Keeley talking about and Mr Shone demonstrating the Wonderful World of Willow. Ah well, another time maybe. But in the meantime, take care, keep well, wear the mask and just a little word for the grandchildren, no matter how old you are, Save all Grandmas and Granddads.

OVERFLOWING

SKDC WASTE BINS

There have been several reports of overflowing waste bins in the Old Post Lane Play Park and the Colster Way Play Park, these are the responsibility of South Kesteven District Council (SKDC). The Parish Council has reported these to SKDC who explained that they are experiencing staff shortages due to COVID-19. If you notice an overflowing bin this can be reported to SKDC Tel; 01476 40608 or on their website: <http://www.southkesteven.gov.uk/>

NATURAL HISTORY BULLETIN

Perhaps no one knows our parish highways and byways better than the person responsible for their tidiness. His findings have included young hedgehogs, grass snakes, whitethroat, goldcrests, spotted flycatcher and, this September, a dead buzzard. On September 6th a bird so unusual as to seem incredible, was a nightjar. He found it dead on the western end of the Woolsthorpe Road. Details and photographs were sent to the County Recorder for Birds. This rare bird of heathland may have been migrating south for the winter. As its name suggests it flies at night, hunting for insects with its wide mouth agape.

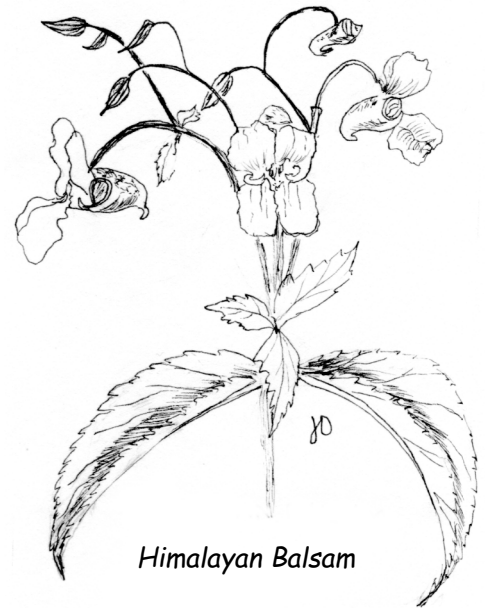

Nightjar

Swallows have now left at least two sites where they have bred this summer. In one case one of two attempts failed. In the other, two broods were successfully reared. Neither have attempted a late brood, probably because of a cold spell in late summer. Also unexpected was an Oak Bush Cricket which turned up drowned in a bath. A search revealed more of its kind amongst the apple trees in the garden. Another "adventive" (turning up in unexpected places) was a Common Green Grasshopper, landing on a book being read near the open door of a conservatory. Both species mark the gardens with a seal of wildlife approval. Vapourer Moths may be "ubiquitous" (found everywhere) but they have fascinating lifestyles. The black, white and red caterpillar has not only warning colours but tufts of irritant hairs as protection from predators. It was found away from plants, searching for a place to spin its cocoon. A fortnight later, in another garden, several adult males with their distinctive cream wing spots were flying over flowers of marjoram. The female is wingless and seldom flies far from the cocoon from which she has emerged. Small Whites were the most frequent butterflies in the garden. Speckled Woods more frequent on the shaded areas of the Nature Trail. Small Tortoiseshells, Red Admirals and Peacock Butterflies all gathered to sip juice from a stewing of Crab Apples in an open compost bin. Wasps, rising like a swarm of bees were disturbed on fallen plums. On cold days Buff Tailed Bumble Bees were immobile, spread out on Knapweeds in the early morning. A Cuckoo Bee was identified from a photograph which clearly showed the lack of pollen baskets on the hind legs. Seven Spot Ladybirds seem abundant as both larvae and adults. Thankfully no Harlequin Ladybirds have been reported. A plant, thought to be a Himalayan Balsam was identified as another garden escape. It was found growing from rubbish dumped on a layby. Himalayan Balsam is an attractive plant with explosive seeds which, if scattered on a waterway will develop into a continuous line of tall plants, excluding all others.

Himalayan Balsam

Another garden escape, even more damaging is Japanese Knotweed, growing like bamboo and almost impossible to eradicate once established. To Look For In October If there are any Harlequin ladybirds about they will be looking to hibernate in buildings. They are aliens and damaging, especially to our native ladybirds. With so much to report, Fungi have been left till next month. By that time you may have many more to tell us about. Dragonflies may still be about, as may the Humming Bird Hawk Moth (more great photos sent in this month). I look forward to hearing about all your findings at 61 Woolsthorpe Road, 860465 e-mail: jnostler@hotmail.co.uk Jane Ostler

Wash Cover Distance

We all know what we need to keep doing, to protect others as well as ourselves. Now we have Rule 6 restrictions in place. Maximum of 6 indoors as well as outdoors at any one time. Full info, updates, exemptions can be found on GOV.UK.

This may well be a tough ruling to adhere to, tempting to bend the 6 rule to suit our own family/friends situation; but we must continue as before, working together as a Community. To adhere to this and any other ruling put in place, for the benefit of us all. Thank you and please let us continue to support each other. As ever we, the CRF is here to give ongoing support where needed.

I may not be available at times on the Hotline number : 07395 607078, alternatively, leave a message on: 07543 818824
Helen Bill - Central Coordinator

Dear friends

I am sure that for many the mere thought of Christmas has you shaking with anxiety, its far too early for that.

For the church however planning for the special season is vital, especially this year, if we are to celebrate safely. Our planning has started and we are looking at all the services we ran last year and asking if they can go ahead without much change, if they need some changes or if they need major change.

To maintain social distancing rules we have a maximum capacity in all our churches and if we think that might be breached we will introduce restrictions on numbers, introduce a booking system and maybe hold some services more than once. All of this will be explained in our publicity in due course, once our planning has been finalised.

We very much look forward to celebrating this time in the life of the church and wider society.

As always, please contact me if you have any questions.

With every blessing

Rev'd. Neil Griffiths
Rector, Colsterworth Group of Churches

COLSTERWORTH POLICE OFFICE

Apologies, the opening of the Police office to the Community continues to be suspended. It's proved to be a good place to pop in and share anything of concern.

However, remember that we're ALL the eyes and ears of our Community. It's important to report ANY potential crime, unusual activity, anything suspicious.

Don't hesitate to phone:
101 - non emergency
999 - emergency
